

Ab. Hembree who was charged with committing an assault with intent to kill, and whose trial was continued from last year, was found guilty of simple assault and fined $100 by judge Boise. He struck a man named Edwards with an axe in a saloon row, but it appears that the assault was provoked. Edwards suffers from deafness in one ear as a result of the blow.