

Nestucca.

There have been no marriages lately, but it is not too late yet nor any Machiavellism discovered and probably there will be none.

Quantities of oranges have been gathered from the Nestucca beach lately, and fine ones, too. Rather early in the season for tropical fruits in this country.

The school at Woods commenced last Monday the 14th. Mrs. Chamberlain, our former Miss. Marble is teacher. She has taught the majority of the schools at this place for an number of years.

Harrison Booth, supervisor of this road district, has directed the road hands to blast out a grade on the county road along the river to widen it. The high water last winter cut away some of the grades which makes it necessary to widen them again.

S. H. Keunedy is preparing to erect some substantial buildings on his new farm near Woods. He has been rafting his lumber by way of Big Nestucca river, which is preferable to hauling at this season of the year. Mr. K. will make some valuable improvements on his farm during the year.
