

OUR SCHOOL AT WOODS.

Mr. Editor:—I am not used to writing for the newspapers, and do not suppose you would print anything I could write.

There are a great many boys and girls in Tillamook, but I never see any letters in the HEADLIGHT from them. Why don't they write? As I must be the first to write, I tell shall you about our school. It commenced last Monday. Mr. Brown is teaching our present term of four months. There are eighteen scholars now and there will be more soon. Some of our scholars of last term are absent this winter, my brother and sister are in Portland attending school, and Miss Retta Booth is at McMinnville. We had five months of school last summer. Mrs. Chamberlain and Miss Bryant were the teachers. Our present school is progressing nicely. There are no bad boys to get a whipping every day nor any bad girls to pull the jumping jack when the teacher is not looking, but they all study diligently and do not have to stay in after school to learn their lessons. Our youngest scholar is seven years old.
