

BEAVER.

Mr. Ooley died Sunday evening.

Miss Daisy Bush returned home Monday.

Chas. Martin is able to get about again.

Dan Nickels is setting out fruit trees and improving his place generally.

A band of kindly neighbors have been aiding each other by going in a crowd and rolling up great log piles or grubbing out garden patches for those not strong enough to do it for themselves. They have visited E. B. Ely, E. F. Lyster and Chas. Martin so far, leaving decided improvements in their wake.

E. F. Lyster is suffering from one of "Job's comforters" on his neck, and is laid up.

A new school-house is being built in the Sears' district.
