

BEAVER.

The fishermen have not all come home yet.

Matthew Casey is slashing for E. F. Lyster.

Mrs. Martha D. Wallace and family, are visiting at G. W. Wallace's.

Mr. Gessner is building a neat little house on his claim at the foot of Bear Creek hill.

Henry A. Ely is getting out timbers to build a barn on his father's homestead, and expects to have it up before Christmas.

Mrs. Ezra B. Ely returned home on the sixth from her brother E. F. Lyster's, where she had been most kindly cared for, through a long and painful illness. The sight of her right eye is lost forever.
