

Our Woods correspondent states that the Big Nestucca river is unfordable and has been in that condition for several weeks, which, with the fact that there are several settlements on both sides of the river, demonstrates the great need of a bridge over that stream.